Betsy Duncan Randolph has taught piano to children, youth, and adults in Lee County since 1987. She holds a Bachelors of Arts degree from Stetson University. She is both state (Florida) and nationally certified as a Teacher of Piano through the Music Teachers Association. Ms. Randolph has held many positions in both the Florida State Music Teachers Association and the SW Florida Music Teachers Association over the years and remains an active member in both. She is also certified to teach singing to children and youth through the Choristers Guild National Association. She served as church pianist and choir director for several years at Grace Church, Fort Myers Shores campus, and was children's choir director at Covenant Presbyterian church for over 14 years. She regularly serves as a substitute pianos in area churches and accompanies middle and high school band students participating in the Florida Bandmasters Solo and Ensemble program. Teaching piano is her passion and she does not see herself ever completely retiring from the profession. Betsy has served as the piano teacher at Fort Myers Montessori School since fall 2016. She also teaches general music education to pre-schoolers at the Kids Connection Pre-School in Cape Coral.
